

Oktoberfest Goat Show Sponsorship

Boers by Hobby announces the ever-popular Oktoberfest Boer Goat Show! This year we are allowing JABGA members to help run the show as a learning experience for them! They will be running it under the state non-profit organization, the California Meat Goat Association.

As most everyone wants to keep the Boer goat shows active in California, we humbly ask you to please join our sponsorship team for this show on November 4 and 5, 2017. This show combines education, youth events including showmanship, the ever-famous costume contest and more to make it one of the most successful Boer Goat events on the West coast! To confirm, there are 3 open ABGA breed shows, 1 JABGA junior breeding show, 1 CJLA jackpot market show, an unsanctioned commercial and non-traditional (colored) division of the breeding shows! If you are a youth just starting (we love this piece of our Boer goat experiences), commercial or seed stock breeder, or someone just wanting to learn about the fastest-growing agricultural industry in the United States, you want to be at this event! Vendors, educational seminars and educational booths will be present for all to learn more.

Your sponsorship for this event will reach local attendees as well as breeders from multiple areas of California, and new people just looking for information. Your name and/or ad will be posted online as well as in an official show program. In addition, your name will be announced during the show as well as a list of sponsors posted at ring side. The valuable information in your ad will go home with everyone that takes a show program for classes and other Oktoberfest information. Your name, location and contact info should be easily noticed in your ad. Lastly, if you have an appropriate item(s) you would like to donate especially for the youth or open show awards, please inform the show committee ASAP. Thank you in advance for any assistance!!!
